1. The Immediate Past President shall solicit nominations from the membership at large for the following annual awards. Each award shall be presented by the Association at its Annual Conference in each year that there is a worthy nominee in the category.

- a. New Professional Award. The purpose of this award is to recognize the contributions of a Student Affairs staff member with less than five years' experience in the field. Nominees will be evaluated on the following criteria:
  - i. Effective service to his/her institution.
  - ii. Innovation in program development and implementation at his/her campus.
  - iii. Service to WVASPA or to another professional organization.
  - iv. Presentation at local, regional, state or national conferences.
  - v. Publication and research, including WVASPA newsletter.
- b. Mid-level Professional Award. The purpose of this award is to recognize the contributions of a Student Affairs staff member with more than five years' experience in the field. Nominees will be evaluated on the following criteria:
  - i. Effective service to his/her institution.
  - ii. Innovation in program development and implementation at his/her campus.
  - iii. Service to WVASPA or to another professional organization.
  - iv. Presentation at local, regional, state or national conferences.
  - v. Publication and research, including WVASPA newsletter.
- c. The Stella Cooksey Distinguished Service Award. The purpose of this award is to serve to honor Stella Cooksey, the founder of WVASPA. Stella Marie Cooksey helped formally found WVASPA in March 1960. She was a 1941 graduate of Morris Harvey College (now the University of Charleston). Ms. Cooksey earned a standard teaching certificate when she was only 18, beginning a 47-year career in education in which she touched the lives of many students. She served as the Dean of Women and Director of Student Services from 1955-1970. She was then made Dean of Student Affairs in 1972, she resigned to return to full-time classroom teaching as a professor of mathematics. In 1981, she was named UC's Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. The award recognizes outstanding achievement over an extended period of time in our profession. The distinguished service need not be exclusively in the state of West Virginia, but significant contribution to a West Virginia institution of higher education is a requirement. Nominees will be evaluated on the following criteria:
  - i. Service to a West Virginia institution of higher education.
  - ii. Service to WVASPA, either through leadership, committee work, or other sources.
  - iii. Contributions to the field of student personnel through teaching, administration, or research.
- d. Innovative Program Award. The purpose of this award is to recognize an institution, member, unit, or division that has implemented an effective and creative approach to a problem or policy. Only one nomination from each campus or branch campus will be considered. The program must be less than four years in existence. Nominations should include the following information:

- i. A description of the specific problem or need that the program is designed to address.
  - ii. A description of the program, accompanied by as much explanatory material as is appropriate.
  - iii. An evaluation of the program.
  - iv. A description of how the program could be adapted for use at other institutions. (This will be an important criterion in deciding on this award.)
  - v. The purpose of this award is not only to recognize outstanding achievement in developing programs, but to share these programs with the WVASPA membership so that all may benefit. Accordingly, a description of all nominated programs will be published in the WVASPA newsletter.
2. The President shall appoint a Selection Committee. If any of these individuals has been nominated for an award, the President may appoint a replacement to the Selection Committee.
  3. The Executive Committee may add other special awards as it deems appropriate.
